

The Angels In My Life

Angels are essential in everyone's life.

Some protect you while others care for you. Without these special beings, problems will become unsolvable and despair will bite you forever. My angels are my mum, my dad and my amazing friend. They all play important roles in my life.

Comfort

Whenever in doubt or distress, my family and friends bring back a sense of calm, tranquility and heal pain whether mental or physical. For example, I once while running tripped over and my friend, (my competitor) instead of winning, helped me up and took me to my goal. She sacrificed her ^{own} medal to comfort me. I shall forever be grateful for her kindness and sportsmanship. At home my parents comforted me, bandaged my wounds and showered me with praise and encouragement.

Protection

Just as in Mother Nature, birds protect their chicks in a cosy nest, my family provides me with a loving home. My parents try their best to shield me from every disaster. For example, this COVID 19 crisis, they have
